DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-6, 12, 13, drawn to a composition containing a polymer barrier and a protease inhibitor, classified in class 435, subclass various.
- II. Claims 7-11 and 14, drawn to a composition containing a protease inhibitor, classified in class 514, subclass various.
- III. Claim 15, drawn to a method of using glycine soja protein, classified in class 530, subclass various.
- IV. Claim 16, drawn to a method of using dipalmitoyl hydroxyproline, classified in class 424, subclass various.
- V. Claim 17, drawn to a method of making a diaper dermatitis treatment, classified in class 210, subclass various.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

The methods of use are distinct from one another since they use different components, thus having different modes of operation.

The method of making a diaper formulation is unrelated since it involves many different steps which do not all include the components of the products. Thus, the method of making the diaper treatment is materially and structurally distinct. Further, the products can be used to make items other than diapers such as detergent solutions.

The products as claimed are distinct from one another since I does not require a sacrificial protease substrate and II does not require a polymer barrier.

Inventions I-II and II-IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially distinct process such cleaning clothes.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: the different protease inhibitors, polymer barriers, sacrificial protease substrates.

Art Unit: 1655

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1, 7, 14-17 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1655

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael V. Meller whose telephone number is 571-272-0967. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday thru Thursday: 9:30am-6:00pm.
